

First Grade Teacher

Our wonderful Ms. Donna is retiring at the end of this school year! We are currently seeking worthy candidates to step into her shoes in first grade for the 2019-2020 school year. The lead first grade teacher will instruct students in science-based reading and reading strategies, writing, vocabulary, grammar, spelling, math, science and social studies while creating a positive, engaging and nurturing environment for project-based learning. The ideal candidate will have demonstrated effective experience teaching in the elementary classroom, a natural aptitude for cultivating relationships with students and families, and significant knowledge of brain-based, data-driven and differentiated instruction. He or she will also be a flexible, collaborative team player, knowledgeable of child development, a lifelong learner, modeling both growth mindset and a true love and passion for young children (and their educational success), and have an authentic sense of adventure. This candidate will also possess the qualities inherent in Mountain Discovery's core values: courage, teamwork, respect, integrity, kindness, compassion, and commitment to empowering our students to lead their own learning.

Education/Experience Requirements:

Bachelor's degree in Elementary Education or a related educational field.

Preferably at least 2 years experience in an elementary classroom.
